Historic images of Guidini Castle conjure an evocative picture, with the tower covered in giant ivy. "In all these photographs, my great-grandfather is always present," said Arch. Alessandro Guidini, great-grandson of the former owner, in a 2022 interview. The castle, now for sale in Lugano-Barbengo, boasts a fascinating history intertwined with the vicissitudes of the noblemen who owned it. Originally built as a defensive structure, it was later transformed into a comfortable and luxurious residence.
